A USEFUL PAIN

Norway People Should Heed Its Warning

Have you a sharp pain or a dull ache across the small of your back? Do you realize that it's often a timely sign of kidney weakness? Prompt treatment is a safeguard against more serious kidney troubles. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Profit by a Norway resident's experience.

Mrs. W. J. Olmstead, 95 Main St., says: "My kidneys began to give me trouble as they were weak. My back ached so badly I could hardly get through with my housework and everything I undertook to do seemed to drag. I was dizzy and could see star-like spots before my eyes. My feet and ankles swelled. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being so good and sent for some. When I had finished taking them, I felt as well as ever. The backache ceased and my kidneys became regulated. I have told a number of people about Doan's Kidney Pills and never fail to recommend them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Olmstead had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

REMEMBER the problem in the old arithmetic about the well frog—how many leaps it will take him to get out if he jumps up four feet and slips back two and a half of every jump? LOCAL HOLSTEIN BREEDER SELECTS A FARM NAME

"Clover Lane" is the trade mark name that has been reserved exclusively for the use of H. S. Bole of Oxford, as a prefix to the regular registration name for all Holstein animals raised on the Bole farm and registered with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, according to an official announcement recently made by Secretary F. L. Houghton of Brattleboro, Vt.

All registered animals carry besides a registry number a family name usually indicating the ancestral bloodlines. As a means of identifying the various breeding establishments of the country trade mark names are reserved by the Association for the exclusive use of breeders. Thus an animal can always be identified as to its original birthplace. Every Holstein man in the United States knows that a cow named Pabst Clover Blossom must come from the Pabst Stock Farm of Oconomowoc, Wis. In a like manner animals carrying the prefix "Clover Lane" will in the future be recognized as coming from the "Bole" herd of Oxford, Maine.

The farm name is a good advertisement. It marks the farm home and the place of business. It dignifies the business and increases the value of the property. It shows a pride in the management and fosters love of tradition. A good farm name can be sold with the land and products as the good will of a firm can be sold with the business. Certain localities in the east have become famous of their farms and the distinctiveness which goes with the naming of them.

The Eskimo is a prodigious eater. Two will commonly dispose of an entire seal at one sitting. Their principal fuel is the blubber or fat of whales and other sea animals.

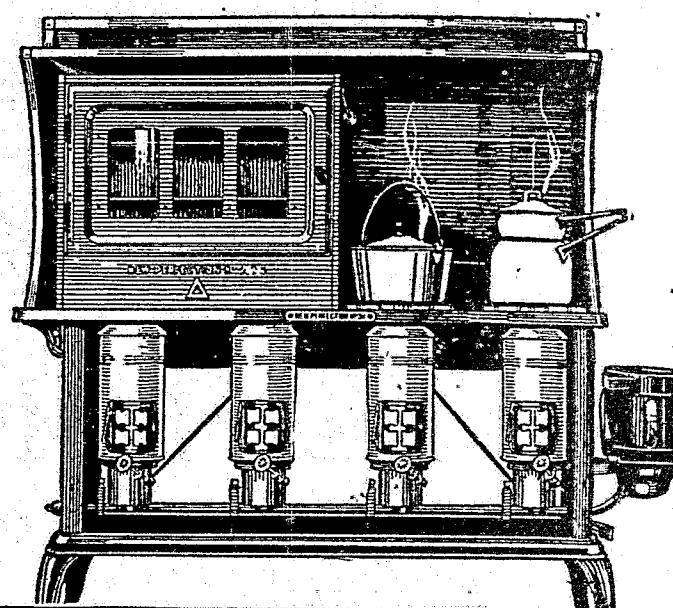

An Eskimo would give a Fortune in Furs for a New Perfection Cook Stove and a few gallons of Socony Kerosene

A NEW Perfection Oil Cook Stove is as superior to the first oil cook stove as a modern coal range is to the Eskimo's crude fire of blubber and fat.

The New Perfection gives more uniform results in frying, boiling, broiling and baking than the average coal range, because you can control the heat so easily. And there is no waste of fuel when the stove is not in use.

There is no odor from a New Perfection. You don't have to shovel in coal and take out ashes, or litter up with kindling wood, or give it a blacking every week. The glass kerosene reservoir can be changed without spilling a drop of oil or getting any on your hands. The stove is clean, light and easily movable, an all-year-round stove.

Stop in and let your dealer show you the various New Perfection models and how easy they are to operate.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
Whereas, the Divine Master has seen fit to remove from our order an honored member, Brother William H. Hutchins, therefore be it Resolved: That while we mourn the loss of our Brother, we wish to express our appreciation of his faithful work and interest in our order.

How slender is life's silver cord,
How soon 'tis broken here.
Whom God shall leave, whom take away,
Resolved: That this testimonial of respect be recorded on our books, a copy sent to the Norway Advertiser for publication, and a copy forwarded to the family of our departed brother, and that our charter be draped for thirty days.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

A Few Poultry Notes

We read in the several papers of the success of different people in the poultry business and think that mention of a few from Norway ought to be made. Frank Noyes at Norway Center is doing a thriving business this spring, hatching chicks. He took off several hatches of R. I. Reds last week and intends to set his incubators up again with all white leghorns, which he likes very much for laying.

Adelaide Young has two large Cyphers incubators running. She specializes in the Barred Plymouth Rocks, from which she has a great many orders for day old chicks. Mrs. George Westleigh hatched 109 smart R. I. Reds last week in her one hundred and fifty egg hot water incubator. The eggs were from the pens of Mrs. H. M. Jackson.

Mrs. Fred J. Lovejoy of Millettville is one of our new beginners in the poultry business. Last year she purchased R. I. Red eggs from Mrs. H. M. Jackson from which she raised a pen of pullets. This year she brought out of the attic an old discarded incubator with the lamp and lamp bracket and a brooder lamp for heat. She managed to hatch 103 good smart R. I. Red chicks, but her champion hatch she took from her little hot water machine last Saturday. From 105 eggs she hatched 80 nice R. I. Red chicks. She is much pleased and thinks it pays to start in with good thrifty breeding stock. Her pullets laid well all winter.

Mrs. H. M. Jackson is also having good success with her eggs, she has a flock of 215 R. I. Red chicks which were hatched in two small one hundred and fifty egg hot water incubators.

One of the enjoyable affairs of the week was a birthday celebration at the home of Murray Russell, Wednesday. A dinner party was the event at noon time, with the grandchildren of Mr. Russell and his niece, Hilda Russell. He supposed this was the end of the festivities but at supper time he was given a complete surprise on the arrival of several guests, who included Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Russell and son Gleason, Mrs. Walter P. Tubbs, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pratt. As Mr. Russell's daughter, Mrs. Pratt, celebrates her birthday a week later, this was a double celebration and each guest of honor was presented with a birthday cake which they cut and distributed. Mr. Russell was presented also with a plant in a basket from the older people and a box of chocolates from the small people.

A fine annual social event, the Universalist Men's Supper and Entertainment will be held Wednesday evening, April 26, in Concert Hall.

Dr. N. S. Marshall

Dr. Nathan S. Marshall, 56 years and 86 days old, for more than 25 years a practicing dentist in Athol, died at his home at 4 a. m. April 8th, the result of a shock. Although he had been in poor health for months, having had his first shock early last November, his death was unexpected. He was born in West Paris, Me., the son of H. G. and Nancy (Cummins) Marshall. He received his early education in the public schools of Norway, and early in life served an apprenticeship to a prominent dentist in Norway, after which for a number of years he was associated with another prominent dentist in Orange.

He later went to Athol, where he worked for a time with Dr. Charles E. Smith, then located in the Webb block in the city where he afterwards did business for about 25 years for himself. He passed the examination of the State board in 1896. He was past grand of Tully lodge, I. O. O. F. and past patriarch of Canis, Athol I. O. O. F. He also was a member of, and past master of Athol lodge of Masons and member of the Union Royal Arch chapter, the Athol Grange and Pequot tribe, I. O. R. M. He was a member for years of the Unitarian church.

Besides his wife, Cora N. (Marshall), he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Maude Withersell of Athol, and Mrs. Frank Connor of Somerville. Funeral services were held at the Unitarian church Tuesday at 2 p. m.; Rev. Edmund Booth Young, minister of the church, officiating. Burial in Highland cemetery.

"The Turn of the Tide"

There was a drama "Turn of the Tide" given for the benefit of the Unitarian church in the Grange Hall Wednesday evening, April 12th. Following is the cast of characters:

Jonas Aldrich, a fisherman of the coast. Capt. Hugh St. Morris, commander of the "Tidal Wave." Mr. Henry Jacobs, Colonel Ellsworth, a wealthy ship owner.

William Hooper of Detroit, Mich. was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fogg. Mr. Hooper is well remembered by the older residents of the village as he spent quite a part of his school days with relatives at Paris.

Amie J. Gwynne of South Berwick was at Paris, Friday.

Prof. Maynard Maxim of Newtonville, Mass., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Maxim, recently. Mrs. Maxim, who has been ill since early winter, is slowly recovering. Mr. Maxim had the misfortune to sprain his foot very badly a short time ago.

Mrs. Hubbard expects to open the Hubbard House about May first. The new ten room annex, "The Mallows," formerly the George W. Cole stand, will be opened as soon as the changes are finished.

Miss Jeannie Hubbard was a delegate at the Republican State Convention at Bangor last week.

Col. and Mrs. Edward T. Brown returned to Paris last week. They have spent the winter in Boston, Mass., and Wilmington, Del.

Why the $10.90 USCO is better than just a $10.00 tire

On November 10, 1921, the 30 x 3 1/2 "USCO" was marked to sell for $10.90.

This odd and closely figured price was the lowest quotation ever made on any tire of known standards.

A genuine pioneering step by the makers of U. S. Tires.

Now comes a lot of different $10.90 tires being rushed into the market. "Special" tires. "New" treads.

Unfamiliar to look at—with perhaps an atmosphere of having been made to meet the price.

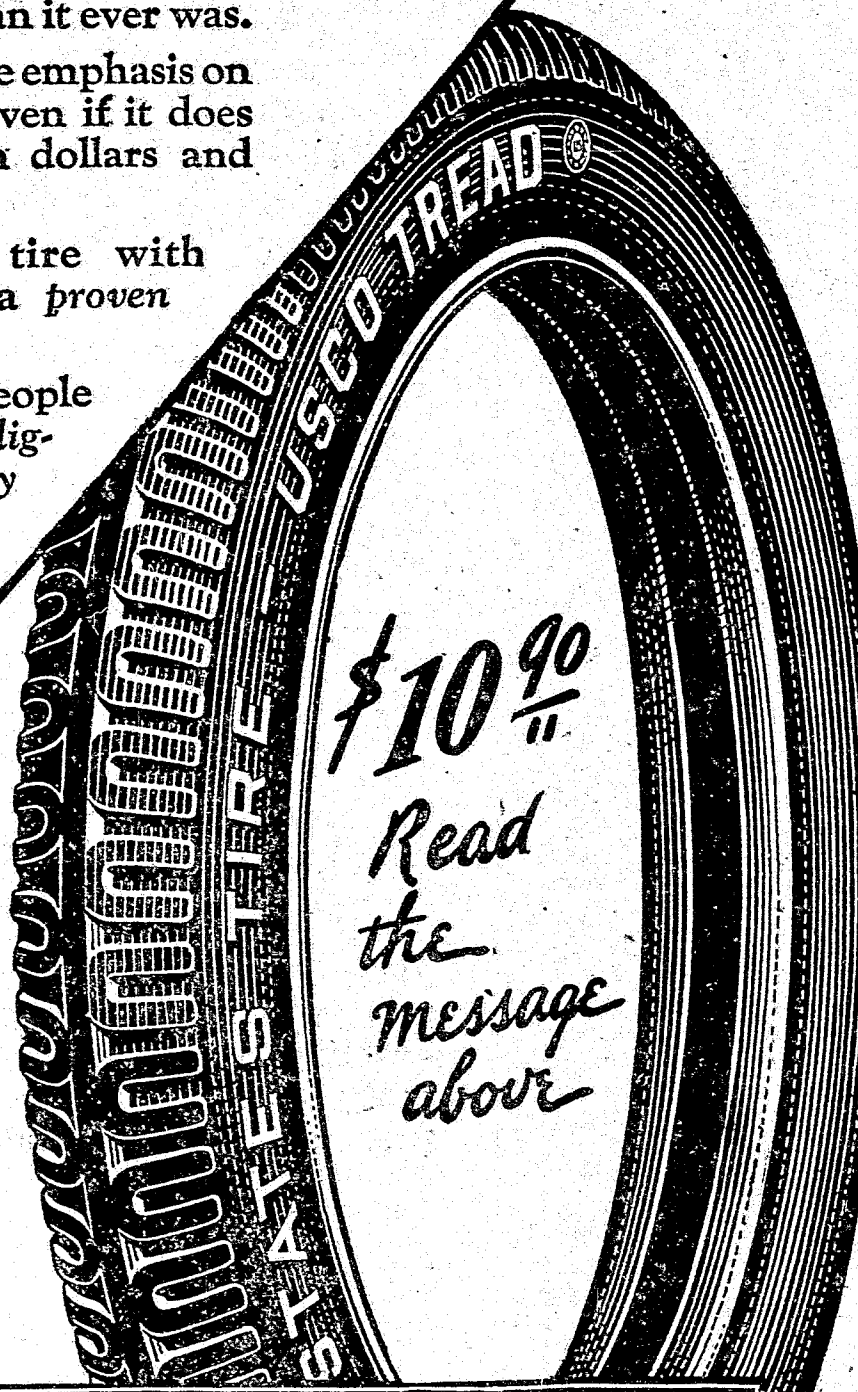

But the "USCO" still occupies a place by itself. A good old standby on millions of cars for years. Better than it ever was.

Still putting the emphasis on honest quality, even if it does sell for only ten dollars and ninety cents.

The $10.90 tire with the record of a proven product.

The tire that people still buy for the dignity of its quality regardless of the low amount they pay.

ADVERTISE FARM PRODUCTS

By A. L. T. Cumming, Orgno

Rules and methods of successful advertising of commodities in general apply equally to advertising farm products. First, there must be the creation of a desire on the part of the public to purchase. Next, is the obligation on the part of the producer to supply the demand in such manner that the casual buyer becomes a permanent customer.

Quality of service counts for more than anything else as an advertising medium. The old quotation about a satisfied customer being the best advertisement is as true in the handling of products of the farmers in any other line of merchandising. Good will can never be purchased by carefully concealing second quality goods beneath a skillfully arranged top layer of choicest, hand-picked products. The top layer, like the label of a sealed package, should tell the true story of quality.

The producer's name, or the name of his farm, should be stamped on the containers. If the quality is there, the purchaser will associate it with the name, and there you have the finest kind of an advertising combination. If the package also bears with the name some striking declaration about the place or way in which the goods were produced, or some reference to the means of delivery, all the better. How many nationally advertised articles we can call to mind whose names we always associate with certain phrases that helped identify them.

Maine isn't as far advanced as are some states in the matter of co-operative advertising of agricultural products, but progress is steadily being made in that line. The Liverpool market, for instance, is so favorably impressed by the advertising quality of products handled by one of Maine's largest fruit exchanges that as soon as the details of shipment are cabled, back comes a cabled order for a payment, through the Boston or New York offices, of the full amount of the bill. There will be no question about the apples measuring up to the standard maintained by the products.

Roadside markets, along the highways frequented by automobiles, and especially on the trunk lines, offer an excellent means of advertising and disposal of farm products. The goods displayed should be protected from direct sunlight, and from dust, but so arranged as to attract the attention of passing motorists. Prices, in figures large enough to be read from the middle of the road, will help in the matter of selling. Let the prices relate small quantities as well as to bulk. A party of motorists might crave a chance to buy a dozen luscious apples for instance, but not be interested in negotiating by the bushel. The main thing is to induce them to stop to look over the display. Quality of the products will do the rest. A well stocked roadside market whose existence is noted by a sign a half mile off stands more chance of patronage from a rapidly approaching vehicle. Without such warning the car may have passed without one of its occupants getting more than a glimpse of the display, to say nothing of a desire to partake.

Nearby summer resorts offer an especially good market for farm products. The parcel post system is also utilized to good advantage by many progressive farmers in the disposal of their wares. I have in mind a party who a few years ago came from a Massachusetts city, established a small poultry farm in a Maine village, and are marketing practically all their eggs and poultry in their former home city, using the parcel post with most satisfactory results as to safe shipments and city prices.

Newspaper advertising always pays, Maine papers that circulate in your community could be patronized with sure promise of satisfactory returns, and don't forget that the local paper as it is your neighbor's or the publisher's is entitled to a fair share of whatever you think you can afford to spend in newspaper advertising.

A newspaper should not be expected to publish free an article that is nothing more or less than a direct advertisement of something you have to sell. The advertising columns are the newspaper's chief means of support. If there is a news story of public interest connected with your farm, your grange or Farm Bureau or any of your activities, the editor will be glad to publish it. If its publication incidentally helps you, the gladness will be two-fold.—Maine Farmer

When Accidents Happen

You pour a few drops of peroxide on the wound. "That peroxide," you say, "is full of life." You are sure of that, because it bubbles and foams when it comes in contact with the wound.

The peroxide may have stood in the medicine closet for four or five months, perhaps. Despite this fact, the peroxide kept its strength. The label tells why. The peroxide was made by Parke, Davis & Co., the kind we sell.

TAXATION AND HIGH COST OF LIVING

In Massachusetts the price of food products have gone up fifteen per cent. since January 1.—News Item.

So the coal strike is on. Warm weather is at hand and the prospect is that there will be very little suffering if there is any at all. There will be of necessity much inconvenience but this can be borne in view of the good outcome if pressure is not made to effect a compromise and patch up a truce between operators and the workmen. The Government should keep its hands off unless there is rioting or destruction of property. Cold steel and bullets for rioters and murderers are the best peace measures in the end. The demands of the workmen are unreasonable. Their wages should be reduced and a five day week with short hours shouldn't be allowed to go. Then when the matter is settled right, the wrongs on the part of the operators should be tackled and done away with. The question which side should get down to normal conditions first will settle itself if there is no interference from the outside.

There are strikes also in other industries. All who strike in times like these should get the worst of it. That is the general feeling among the mass of the people. It is no way to settle difficulties. The picketing business should be stopped. It is a great nuisance. If one is willing to work when another won't, he shouldn't be interfered with. Free labor and an open shop are the watchwords.—Comment.

Doesn't it seem remarkable that such a clause as the following should be thrown out of the platform at the Bangor Convention: "And while reorganizing the existing rights of private owners, we insist upon preserving to the people such rights as they now have in the water resources of the state."

The platform adopted there gloried in the record made by the party and turned the crank on prohibition. Neither will get any votes this year. Performance and not promises count. The profiteer still goes unhung and the price booster is yet with us. The consumer continues to be skinned. How much nearer are we to normal conditions than two years ago when promises were made?—Comment.

Taxes must be paid in money; so, only those who have money or property that can be turned into money pay taxes, and they pay not only their proportion of the total taxation but also that of the moneyless members of the community.

A taxed person seeks to pass on the tax to others, if the conditions permit. A tax on soda fountains is paid by the consumer, as is the tax on tobacco, not by the manufacturer. A physician seeks to recover a part of his taxes in higher fees, and a land and house tax is reflected in the rent. Some taxes may be shifted at once, others require time, and others still cannot be shifted at all; but a tax, whether direct or indirect means higher prices.

But if the tax be too heavy and pushes the price beyond a fair limit, the consumer rebels, denies himself the taxed goods and the business remains with the manufacturer. He loses his market in whole or in part, his free capital is affected, and he becomes overstocked with unsalable products and with labor that demands employment. He must continue to produce, or shorten hours of labor or discharge a part of his workers, and each alternative involves disturbance and untidy loss. It is labor that suffers the most.

If the tax is moderate it still tends to restrict purchases, for it deprives the taxpayer of what was intended for articles of his own consumption. Diffusion of taxes does not abolish the tax or even reduce the total burden; it merely redistributes the payment until no further adjustment can be made, and it is usually those who are least able to pay who are the greatest sufferers.

Every dollar taken in taxation is so much taken from the productive funds of the community, reducing by that amount the purchasing power of the taxed. He might employ labor or he might buy commodities; but if his ability to spend is cramped by taxes it is labor that is first to be cut down. No one finds it his interest to continue to produce as a loss, but the goods on hand may be looked upon as an asset. Labor is not, for it must be paid for at the time and cannot be stored. Therefore, it is labor that first suffers from taxation that touches production; he loses his job, he cannot shift the burden of his taxes and he has no fund to tide over a period of depression. Whatever takes from the employment fund of the country and turns what it takes to other expenditure is immediately felt in the labor field. What government takes in taxes it does not use to restore the employment capital and the employer in seeking to meet the conditions imposed cuts wages or reduces the number of his wage earners, and labor has only a ruinous strike as retaliation. It is a vicious circle in which labor suffers at every turn.—W. C. Ford, Prize article in Boston Herald.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

M. W. Sampson has bought a steel canoe from Michigan and he likes it so well that he has sent an order for another to be sent by express.

Lewis R. Buswell has received several post cards from James R. Dyer, who is touring Egypt.

Mrs. Jennie Lawrence who is at the Maine General Hospital, Portland, where she underwent serious surgery, is making a good recovery. During her absence her mother, Mrs. McAllister, is stopping with Mrs. Simon.

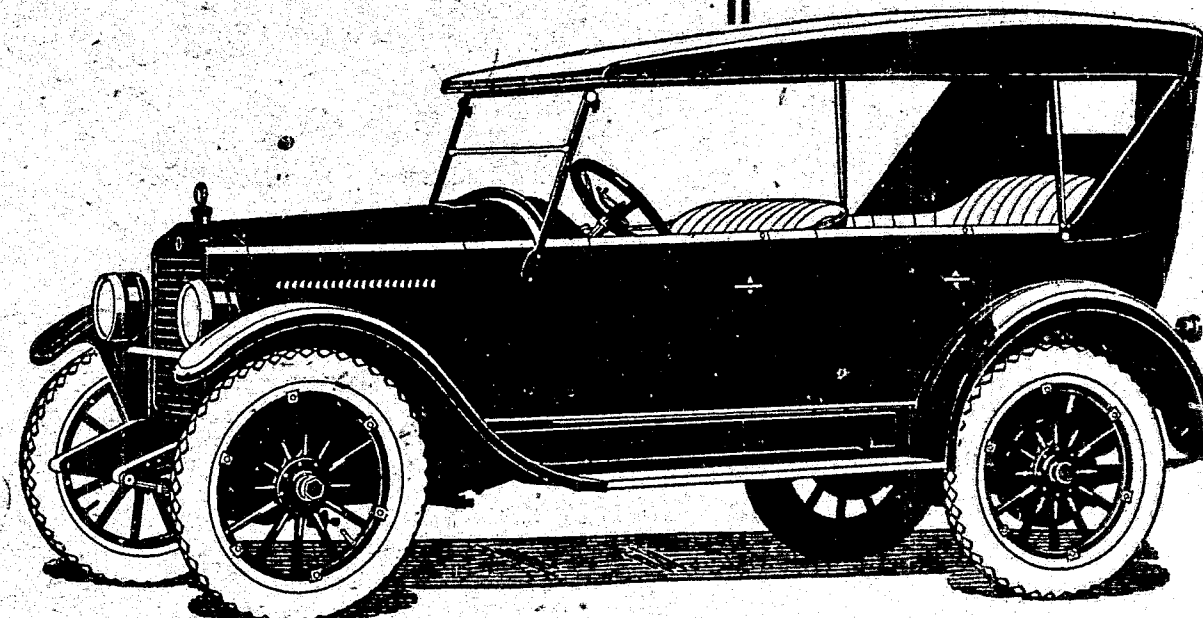

Harry E. Gibson recently presented the grange with pictures of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Gibson, who were charter members of Norway grange. Lella Watson and Mrs. Alice Watson were appointed a committee to look after the placing of the pictures in the hall.

A dance will be held at the Grange Hall Saturday evening with music by Shaw's Orchestra of five pieces.

The classes in dancing, taught by Mrs. Marguerite Johnson of Boston, Mass., were held at the Grange Hall Monday afternoon and evening. The classes will be held there in the future instead of at the Legion rooms as formerly.

The League of Nations has condemned the private manufacture of munitions as a menace to world peace. Congress would mightily please the great mass of Americans if it would take the manufacture of munitions out of the hands of private interests.

A New ESSEX

It was to prove ability and enduring qualities far beyond what any light car had ever shown that Essex made the tests resulting in its famous world's records.

But performance and reliability are not its only appeal. Its beauty of line and luxury of appointment are the work of years of leadership in car design. See the care and completeness even in the smallest detail. Its riding comfort and smooth, quiet running ease are qualities you will compare with high-priced cars. Yet Essex also gives light car advantages such as unusual tire, fuel and oil economy.

Judge it, not by the light car standards you have known, but by the much more exacting requirements of the large, costly cars. That is what makes its price all the more wonderful.

HELPED OUT REIGNING BULL

Kindly Act of New Member of Herd
Something the Keepers Had Never Seen Before.

Usually when a new bull is taken into the buffalo herd at Golden Gate park in San Francisco his standing is promptly decided by a challenge from the head of the herd. The newcomer either wins the fight and in turn is exalted to the rank of sovereign or he is defeated and shown his place. But a new bull, Mogul, recently proved to be an exception. He was two years old, a fine example of what a young buffalo should be, and he seemed thoroughly content to mind his own business and to let the other bulls mind theirs. No one would have known that there was a new buffalo in the herd.

One morning the keepers saw that there was something in the air. Mogul was sniffling round the reigning bull. They were apart from the herd, heads down, and were moving round slowly. It was the queerest beginning of a bullfight that the keepers had ever seen. It appeared as if Mogul would knock out the old bull with one toss.

As they moved round and round Mogul seemed to be hectoring the other bull in the eye, and the other bull did not seem to be making the least resistance. Then they pulled apart and Mogul put down his head.

The old bull had a bunch of thorny cactus sticking over his right eye, and Mogul was hectoring it off as best he could with his clumsy short little horns. Finally, after two more attempts, circling round as before, he got the cactus off, and each moved away about his own business.—Youth's Companion.

FIRST UNITED STATES COINS

"Fugios," Made of Copper, Were the Earliest issued by Direct Authority of Congress.

The "fugios" were the earliest coins issued by the authority of the United States, and were of copper. It was in April, 1787, that the congress of the United States authorized the board of treasury to contract for 300 tons of copper coin of the federal standard "agreeably to the proposition of Mr. James Jarvis, provided that the premium to be allowed to the United States on the account of the copper contracted for be not less than 15 per cent," and that "it be coined at the expense of the contractor, but under the inspection of an officer appointed and paid by the United States."

It is presumed that this copper coin contract was made, as directed for on Friday, July 6, 1787, the congress adopted this resolution: "That the board of treasury direct the contractor for the copper coinage to stamp on one side of each piece the following device, viz.: Thirteen circles linked together and a small circle in the middle with the words 'United States' around it, and in the center the words, 'We are one.' On the other side of the same piece the following device, viz.: A dial with the hours expressed on the face of it, a meridian sun above, on one side of which is to be the word 'Fugio'; and on the other side the words '1787'; below the dial the words, 'Mind your own business.'"

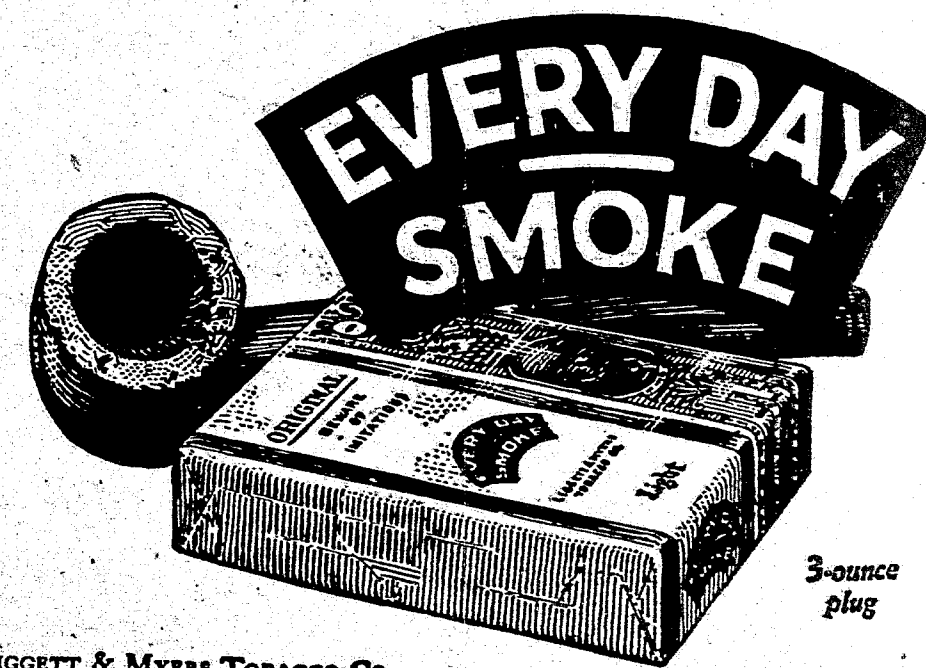

The Department of Agriculture says that birds save the farmers more than $400,000,000 a year.

BROWN, BUCK & CO.

NORWAY, ME.

South Paris

Observed Eighty-Fourth Birthday. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Buck's 84th birthday occurred on Monday, and to celebrate the occasion her son's wife, Mrs. Charles L. Buck planned a birthday surprise party. Her secret was kept until a short time before the arrival of the guests, when Madam Buck happened to go down stairs where she saw the decorations and "caught on."

The invited guests included Mrs. Ellen Blake, Mrs. Sarah Clark, Mrs. Mary Dwindl, Mrs. Justina Hall, Mrs. Arvilla Wise, Mrs. Fie Kneeland, Mrs. Ellen Curtis, Mrs. Kate Stuart, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Winfield Starbird, Mrs. Marietta Willis. Streamers of purple and white were suspended from the electric chandelier to each corner of the table where they were fastened with yellow and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Buck received congratulations and many pretty birthday gifts. During the afternoon Mrs. H. E. Wilson and Mrs. Agnes Perkins sang duets.

Mrs. Buck is remarkably active and attends the Methodist church of which she is a member and the church entertainments. She is a member of Mt. Pleasant Rehearsal lodge, of Paris Grange and a member of the Ladies Circle of the G. A. R. and when weather permits attends the various meetings.

She has lived at South Paris about 13 years, coming here from Snow's Falls where she spent the greater part of her life. Mrs. Buck is the daughter of the late Eleazer and Abigail T. (Paine) Dunham.

Mrs. Buck has been twice married. Her first husband was Mark M. Stinchfield. He lived but a few years. She later married Charles T. Buck and to them were born two children, Dr. Charles L. Buck, who is a successful dentist and one of the most enterprising citizens of the town, and George E. Buck, who is employed in the shoe business in Boston.

Community Club Play a Success

The three act comedy drama "Nothing but the Truth" was presented before crowded houses Thursday and Friday evenings at grange hall. This was an unpublished royalty play and difficult for the average amateur talent. Under the able coaching of Mrs. Mae Stevens the piece went along in regular professional style and was a credit to the cast selected for the evening work.

The play centers around the doings of a young broker who was in on a large wager he could tell the absolute truth for twenty-four hours and get by smoothly in business and social circles. Of course the jinx got busy during the time and numerous situations were disconcerting and extremely amusing.

It would be well to say that to pick the best piece of acting as all parts were so ably taken, but the character work brought out by Eugene Lovell was cleverly done, while impersonating "Robert Bennett" the often unwilling truth teller. Maynard Curtis played the role of "Ralston," head of the firm of stock brokers and father of the girl in the case. Two other stock brokers in the case, "Richard Donnelly" and "Clarence Van Dusen" impersonated by Charles Hammond and Howard Aldrich. Herman Noyes was "Bishop Doran," who was wiser in financial matters than he would admit. Mrs. Mae Stevens as "Gwendolyn Ralston" engaged to "Robert the Truthful" was exceptionally good.

Leon Frank portrayed "Mrs. E. M. Ralston" of a temperamental disposition and easily bewitched. Beryl Silver as "Ethel Clark" acted the character of a guest in the house party, who was forced onto the lime light and deep humiliation through the terms of the wager.

Mrs. Eva Evers and Mrs. Florence Morse were lively soubrettes, known as the "Jackson sisters." They mixed in affairs at a critical time when the strained relations were on the breaking point. "Martha," a maid, was impersonated by Lula Billings.

Music was furnished both evenings by a large orchestra made up of the high school orchestra and local players directed by Helen M. Barnes. Shaw played for a short dance after the play Friday evening. The Community Club Nursing Association will receive the net proceeds from both evenings.

Observed Eighty-Fourth Birthday Mrs. Elizabeth A. Buck's 84th birthday occurred on Monday, and to celebrate the occasion her son, Mr. Charles L. Buck planned a birthday surprise party. Her secret was kept until a short time before the arrival of the guests, when Madam Buck happened to go down stairs where she saw the decorations and "caught on."

The invited guests included Mrs. Ellen Blake, Mrs. Sarah Clark, Mrs. Mary Dunham, Mrs. Justina Hall, Mrs. Corilla Wise, Mrs. Fie Kneeland, Mrs. Ellen Curtis, Mrs. Kate Stuart, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Winfield Starbird, Mrs. Marietta Willis. Streamers of purple and white were suspended from the electric chandelier to each corner of the table where they were fastened with yellow and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Buck received congratulations and many pretty birthday gifts. During the afternoon Mrs. H. E. Wilson and Mrs. Agnes Perkins sang duets.

Mrs. Buck is remarkably active and attends the Methodist church of which she is a member and the church entertainments. She is a member of Mt. Pleasant Hebrew lodge, of Paris Grange and a member of the Ladies Circle of the G. A. R. and when weather permits attends the various meetings.

She has lived at South Paris about 13 years, coming here from Snow's Falls where she spent the greater part of her life. Mrs. Buck is the daughter of the late Deleazer and Abigail T. (Paine) Dunham.

Mrs. Buck has been twice married. Her first husband was Mark M. Stinchfield. He lived but a few years. She later married Charles T. Buck and to them were born two children, Dr. Charles L. Buck, who is a successful dentist and one of the most enterprising citizens of the town, and George E. Buck, who is employed in the shoe business in Boston.

Community Club Play a Success The three act comedy drama "Nothing but the Truth" was presented before crowded houses Thursday and Friday evenings at grange hall. This was an unpublished royalty play and difficult for the average amateur talent. Under the able coaching of Mrs. Mae Stevens the piece went along in regular professional style and was a credit to the cast selected for the exacting work.

The play centers around the doings of a young broker who was in on a large wager he could tell the absolute truth for twenty-four hours and get by smoothly in business and social circles. Of course the jinx got busy during the time and numerous complications and disconcerting situations were exceedingly amusing.

It would be well nigh impossible to pick the best piece of acting as each actor was so ably taken, but the character work brought out by Eugene Lowell was cleverly done, while impersonating "Robert Bennett," the often unwilling truth teller. Maynard Curtis played the role of "Ralston," head of the firm of stock brokers, and father of the girl in the case. Two other stock brokers in the play were "Richard Donnelly," and "Clarence Van Dusen," impersonated by Charles Hammond and Howard Aldrich. Herman Noyes was "Bishop Doran," who was wiser in financial matters than he would admit. Mrs. Mae Stevens as "Gwendolyn Ralston," engaged to "Robert the Truthful" was exceptionally good.

Lenz Franck portrayed "Mrs. E. M. Ralston," a temperamental disposition and easily bewildered. Beryl Silver as "Ethel Clark," acted the character of a guest in the house party, who was forced onto the lime light and deep humiliation through the terms of the wager.

Mrs. Eva Evis and Mrs. Florence Morse were lively soubrettes, known as the "Jackson sisters." They mixed in affairs at a critical time when the strained relations were on the breaking point. "Martha," a maid, was impersonated by Lula Billings.

Music was furnished both evenings by a large orchestra made up of the high school orchestra, and local players directed by Helen M. Barnes. Shaw played for a short dance after the play Friday evening. The Community Club Nursing Association will receive the net proceeds from both evenings.

Paris Grange will meet Saturday, Apr. 15 at 1:30 p. m. After the usual business the following program will be presented:

Singing, "Star Spangled Banner," Grange Exemplification of the Field Work, Dr. Stewart will read the Grange Paper, "Swanee River," Grange Declaration of the Purposes of the Grange, Thirteen members of the Grange Paper, "The Earlier Days of the Grange," Entertainment, Sister Jackson, High School scholars of our Grange, Closing Song.

The Musical Workers met with Nellie Jackson Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A general review of American musicians was given and solos and duets were rendered by Velma Shaw, Bertha Bowker, Frances Russell, Estella Thurlow, Reta Shaw, Hazel Mosher, Eleanor Haskell, Ruth Brown, Edith Marion Davis, Martha Barrows, Alpha Thayer, Howard Twitshell, Clifford Currier, Nelson Haskell, Gordon Stewart, Walter Irvine.
